Mt. Pinos Ranger District: The District office is located in the Frazier Park area approximately 50 miles south of Bakersfield and 65 miles northwest of Los Angeles along the Interstate 5 corridor. Mt. Pinos employees receive Los Angeles area locality pay. Most employees live in the local mountain communities or commute from Bakersfield, Lancaster, or Santa Clarita. A Government trailer pad may be available.

8/26/2009

The Mt. Pinos Ranger District encompasses 497,064 acres of the Los Padres National Forest located in the Western Transverse Range and a portion of the Sierra Madre Coastal Range of California including portions of Kern, Ventura, Los Angeles, and Santa Barbara Counties. Elevations range from 2,000 to 8,830 feet at the summit of Mount Pinos. This variation in elevation offers some of the most diverse landscape on the Los Padres National Forest. Vegetation varies from sagebrush and annual grasses to mixed coniferous forests. There are numerous recreational opportunities on the district with campgrounds, three Wilderness areas, motorized and non-motorized trails to ride, hike and horseback; and hunting opportunities for upland birds and big game. The District has the largest OHV program on the Forest with 220 miles of designated OHV trails.

Average annual precipitation in Frazier Park is 9-11 inches with most occurring between December and March. Snow is common and summers are usually dry and warm.

For community information visit: www.frazmtn.com www.bakersfieldcity.us www.santa-clarita.com

Santa Barbara Ranger District:

The Santa Barbara Ranger District has various recreational opportunities for day use, developed camping, river access, hunting, recreational shooting, hiking and backpacking, fishing, mountain biking, off-highway vehicles and horseback riding. The District has the most developed and concentrated recreation area on the forest, the Santa Ynez Recreation Area, and it is managed through a concessionaire permit. The district also has a large recreational residence tract and administers many other recreation special use permits. The District has many lands special use permits including those for communication sites and water. The District is responsible for management of portions of the San Rafael and Dick Smith Wildernesses. The District, in conjunction with the City and County of Santa Barbara, manages numerous front country trails that cross all three jurisdictions. Many District recreation programs and some resource programs are heavily supported through volunteer coordination.

The District is home to numerous threatened and endangered species and has a high concentration of cultural sites that can be impacted by forest uses such as recreation, special uses, and fire suppression. The District manages the urban interface with the south coast communities of Goleta, Santa Barbara, Montecito and Carpinteria as well as the watershed for several drinking water reservoirs for these communities. Fire prevention, including work with the local communities and the Fire Safe Council, fuels treatments, fire suppression, and BAER efforts make up a large part of the district's program of work. The District cooperates with numerous city and county fire departments to provide fire response to the urban interface area. The District's large fire organization includes 6 engines, LP Hotshots, Santa Ynez Helitack Crew, a dozer, fire prevention techs, 2 Battalion Chiefs, and a Division Chief. The fire staff makes up over 100 of the approximately 120 positions on the District.
